Day 4: Royal Golf Marrakech
Enjoy a round at the historic Royal Golf Marrakech, the favourite course of the late King Hassan II and the second-oldest course in the Kingdom. Some holes are legendary and steeped in history. Its exceptional vegetation provides a unique setting. Designed by Gustave Golias and Arnaud Massy, it welcomed its first players in 1927. Royal Golf Marrakech has 27 holes. David Lloyd George, the British statesman, played its greens on several occasions. Winston Churchill also played there several times before World War II, as did, later on, the American president, General Ike Eisenhower.
Transfer back to the hotel after your round.

Overnight at the hotel.

Day 6: SAMANAH GOLF BY NICKLAUS
Play at the prestigious Samanah Golf, designed by the renowned Nicklaus Design.
This course has already won over a great number of amateurs and professionals with the quality of its design, its fast greens and its bunkers. This is undoubtedly why Samanah Golf Club by Nicklaus hosts several finals of the Lalla Aicha Tour School every year, enabling young professionals to earn their access cards to the Ladies European Tour.
Transfer back to the hotel after your round.

Overnight at the hotel.

Day 7: Noria Golf Club
Your final golfing experience takes place at Noria Golf, an original course designed at the foot of the Atlas. Its originality lies in the exceptional panorama, but also in the shape of its greens — a rectangular basin — the minaret-shaped towers that evoke traditional Moroccan architecture, and its 3 distinct zones: one with trees and flowers, one with water around the Noria basins (water wheel) and one with desert.
Transfer back to the hotel after your round.

Overnight at the hotel.

Day 8: Departure Day (RAK)
After breakfast, your driver will take you to RAK airport in line with your flight schedule.

Day 3: Les Dunes Golf Club
Today, tee off at the renowned Les Dunes Golf Club, located 10 km from Agadir. The internationally known 27-hole Les Dunes course was created in 1991 and spans 252 acres (about 102 hectares). Its wonderful rolling fairways are dotted with 4 lakes and lined with typically Moroccan vegetation, such as eucalyptus, broom, tamarisk and palm trees. Talented designer Cabell B. Robinson, a follower of Robert Trent Jones, created the course to delight beginner and experienced golfers alike with three sets of 9 holes full of surprises.

Day 4: L'Océan Golf Club
Head to L'Océan Golf Club, located 15 minutes from central Agadir, in the Bensergao forest, opened at the end of 2009.
The architectural firm Belt Collins had over 90 hectares of land, along the banks of the Oued Souss, to design three sets of 9 holes — Dune, Desert and Garden — that make up this magnificent course.
The course sits on natural sand dunes, with eucalyptus, tamarisk, cypress, mimosa, broom, palm trees and various flowers, to which 4 lakes have been added. The layout thus offers natural relief and fairways in fairly narrow spots, giving this course a great variety of challenges.

End your tour with a visit to the "Targant" argan museum, a space dedicated to discovering the cultural and traditional importance of this precious Moroccan product.

Designed by Kyle Phillips, the Tazegzout Golf course covers 76 hectares of land and sits 80 m above sea level. Every hole challenges golfers with breathtaking views of the Atlantic Ocean. A full range of facilities is available to visitors. The Clubhouse, from its elevated position, offers a dramatic setting atop a cliff, with stunning views over the magnificent Taghazout Bay, as well as excellent views of the 18th green.
